Greater YELLOWSTONE

COALITION EST. 1983

Greater Yellowstone Coalition's recent accomplishments protecting the wild heart of North America.

OVERVIEW

Greater Yellowstone is home to an astounding array of native wildlife and its wild rivers are the headwaters of the West. It is of deep importance to more than four dozen Tribes with historic and cultural ties to the ecosystem. Those who live here – and those who visit – know there is no place like it in the world.  Our success stems from our ability to address the complex challenges facing the region and act on opportunities when they arise. We consistently engage a wide range of people who care about Greater Yellowstone, create space to find solutions and build consensus, and bring new ideas and innovation to the table.

Our donors help us achieve this vision through their dedication and generous financial support.

KEY CONSERVATION WINS

WE ENGAGE PEOPLE WHO CARE

REDUCING REGIONAL CONFLICTS

Since 1983, GYC has worked with ranchers, federal agencies, and nonprofit partners to buy out, retire, or convert grazing allotments totaling more than 897,000 acres. These retirements are a win-win for wildlife and ranchers.

PROTECTING RIVERS AND STREAMS

GYC organized more than 1,300 businesses and organizations to support the proposed Montana Headwaters Legacy Act, which would permanently protect 380 river miles in southwest Montana and secure their free flow, water quality, and unique, outstanding values.

SECURING VITAL HABITAT

GYC helped pass the Yellowstone Gateway Protection Act, which protects 30,370 acres of public land from toxic gold mining on the boundary of Yellowstone National Park and ensures this landscape will remain intact for the region's iconic wildlife that depend on it.

WE ARE CONSENSUS BUILDERS

ENHANCING WILDLIFE CONNECTIVITY

GYC partnered with researchers, engineers, biologists, stakeholders, and others to advocate for the planning and construction of 23 wildlife crossing structures or projects throughout Greater Yellowstone. This work reduces wildlifevehicle collisions by up to 90 percent in critical locations where animals routinely cross roadways, making travel safer for both animals and humans.

ELEVATING TRIBAL INTERESTS & RIGHTS

GYC, along with the Eastern Shoshone and Northern Arapaho Tribes of the Wind River Indian Reservation, hosted two Inter-Tribal Gatherings in partnership with Yellowstone and Grand Teton national parks, nonprofits, agencies, and Tribal Nations. More than 350 people came together to receive cultural sensitivity training, elevate Indigenous voices in conservation, and build better government-to-government relations.

ADVOCATING FOR GOOD WILDLIFE POLICY

GYC worked with thousands of advocates across the nation who care deeply about Greater Yellowstone's remarkable wildlife to advance conservation policies in Greater Yellowstone. These include limiting wolf hunting next to Yellowstone National Park, changing state policy to expand two bison tolerance zones, and overturning a decision in court that denied protections to wolverines. We are committed to fighting for policies that help Greater Yellowstone's iconic wildlife thrive.

WE ARE CREATIVE AND INNOVATIVE

PROTECTING WILD LANDSCAPES

GYC and our partners protected more than one million acres of habitat on public and private lands through administrative protections, conservation easements, land purchases, elk occupancy agreements, and forest restoration projects.

BALANCING RECREATION & NATURE

GYC partnered with the U.S. Forest Service to protect grizzly bears and people by analyzing the needs of 164 campgrounds on five national forests and providing financial support to bearproof 102 of the locations, helping keep bears wild and people safe.

BUILDING RESILIENT & ADAPTIVE HABITATS

GYC helped raise the necessary funds to restore 66 miles of diverse aquatic habitat within the Crandall Creek drainage to create a climate refuge for Yellowstone cutthroat trout in this important tributary to the Clarks Fork of the Yellowstone River.
